

Astoria Regatta

'Bridge to Adventure'

August 11 - 15, 1993

Meet the 1993 Regatta Court

Princess Adrienne

Adrienne Van Meer is the daughter of Malcolm and Sandra Van Meer of Knappa and will attend Southern Oregon State College where she will major in sports medicine. She was named to the Class 2A first all-state basketball team and is a 1993 National Scholar Athlete.

Svensen-Burnside Volunteer Fire Department and vice president of the Explorer Scout post. She was a counselor at Camp Kiwanilong, a teachers assistant and a counselor at basketball camps.

Van Meer says representing the Astoria Regatta means an opportunity to share the rich maritime traditions of the area

Van Meer was president of Future Business Leaders of America and played varsity basketball, track and volleyball.

Van Meer was a volunteer with youth athletic programs, a cadet with the Knappa as well as the natural beauty and wonders of the Pacific Northwest, particularly Clatsop County, with others. She says traveling and meeting new people is a great bonus in representing the Regatta.

Princess Sara

The daughter of Robert and Gayle Landwehr, Sara Landwehr graduated from Astoria High School where she played varsity volleyball and basketball, winning the 1993 basketball team sportsmanship award, and was named to the 1992 OSSA-Mikasa Volleyball Team of the Year. She was a member of the National Honor Society and was 1992 Homecoming queen.

Scholar-Athlete Award, OSAA/Trailblazer Scholar-Athlete honors, Phyllis Edy Scholarship and the Presidential Academic Fitness Award.

She plans to attend Oregon State University where she will major in interior design.

Princess Sara has lived in Astoria all her life and says the Regatta has always been one of her favorite summer activities. She says she is honored to represent Astoria as part of this tradition that already is a piece of her life.

She received the U.S. Army Reserve

Princess Stefanie

Stefanie Denise Pender represents Seaside High School on the 1993 Astoria Regatta court. She will attend the University of San Francisco and the Art Academy of San Francisco and will study art, foreign languages and theology.

The daughter of Steven Pender and Donna Dague, she spent her junior year in Brazil with the Rotary Youth Exchange program and speaks fluent Portuguese. She participated in cross country, swimming and basketball in high school and was selected to represent Seaside at the Hugh O'Brien Youth Leadership Conference. She coached Seaside Kids Saturday basketball for three years.

She feels representing her school and community at the Regatta is a great honor and a chance to show her appreciation for the many opportunities offered by her community and the area and enabling her to put back into the community all it has given her.

Princess Shashonee

Shashonee Dawn Thornton is the daughter of Don and Kandle Thornton and a graduate of Warrenton High School. She plans to attend the University of Puget Sound where she will major in physical therapy.

She was senior class president, attended Oregon Girls' State and was a member of Girls' League and National Honor Society.

She did volunteer work with special needs students and was a "Generation Gap" reporter for The Daily Astorian. She was valedictorian of her class.

Thornton says that representing her school at the Astoria Regatta will allow her to set an example of maturity, responsibility and pride in the area.

She feels when she works hard to do her best she gains character and individuality and that being part of the Regatta court enhances her skills in dealing with the public.

On the Cover

TO ALL THE VOLUNTEERS WHO HELPED PUT TOGETHER
ONE OF THE BEST ASTORIA
REGATTA'S

If you contributed to the 1993 Regatta and were not mentioned above, we sincerely apologize.

Crowning a new queen

Sharon Leigh will be mistress of ceremonies at the coronation of the 1993 queen of the Astoria

Regatta on Wednesday evening, Aug. 11. The event will get under way at 7:30 p.m. at the Clatsop Community College Performing Arts Center at 16th and Franklin streets in Astoria.

Sharon Leigh

THE ADMIRAL OF the 1993 Regatta, Jon A. Englund, owner of Englund Marine Supply in Astoria, will crown one of four princesses — Sara Landwehr, Adrienne Van Meer, Stefanie Pender and Shashonee Thornton — to reign over the five days of festivities.

The color guard at the coronation will be from the U.S. Coast Guard Air Station in Warrenton and Anchor Club Skipper Maxine Dymond will present a special award to a Regatta supporter to be announced that night.

THE CORONATION IS sponsored by the Anchor Club. Co-chairs of the event are Debbie Lake and Becci Haglund Smith. Immediately following the coronation will be a reception in the Kern Room of the Columbia River Maritime Museum, sponsored by the museum's auxiliary.

Entertainment at the gala event will be by Paula St. James who will sing "Orange Colored Sky," Miss Clatsop County 1993 Chris Saari will sing "Everywhere I Go," Karrie Renfrow will tapdance to "Vickie and Mr. Valves" and Jennifer Hockley will sing "If We Hold on Together."

Regatta Association President Marlene Mestrich will present awards to winners of the downtown window decoration contest.

1992 Queen Amy Rasmusson says goodbye

Though my official reign will end as Regatta Queen, I will pass on my crown and scepter to the new queen with the hope that in the coming year she will treasure them and the meaning behind what they symbolize, just as I have.

As queen, the many opportunities and challenge have given me the motivation and strength to strive towards my everyday goals. A year filled with parade appearances, speaking engagements and activities as a representative of the communities on the North Oregon Coast have been hectic, fun-filled and memorable.

I wish to express the utmost thanks to the Regatta Association, the Anchor Club and all the community organizations and last year's and this year's court. Each girl brought out her own unique style and I will treasure those memories forever.

It will be without regret, but certainly with gratitude, when I see the next Regatta queen crowned.

I wish her the best of luck in all her endeavors.

Regatta Parade begins at noon

This year's Grand Land Parade, scheduled to begin at noon on Saturday, Aug. 14, will feature more than 80 floats, bands and groups. The parade will begin with the Astoria Fire Department and a color guard followed by the parade Grand Marshal Rob Deu Pree, the parade Marshal Cmdr. Robert C. Wicklund of the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Venturous and the Regatta admiral and his aide, Jon Englund and Bob Eaton.

Representatives from festivals and events in the Northwest will be on hand including Wenatchee, Wash., Apple Blossom Festival; Port Angeles, Wash., Derby Days; Pullman, Wash., Lentil Festival; Capitol Lakefair; and Issaquah Salmon Days.

The parade will begin forming at about 8:30 a.m. on Bond Street between West Marine Drive and Eighth Street. The parade route will move east on Bond Street, south on Eighth Street to Commercial Street, east on Commercial to 16th Street, south on 16th to Exchange Street and east to 20th Street where it will disband at the Clatsop County Fairgrounds.

A Bridge to Adventure

The Astoria Regatta Association is gearing up for its 99th annual Astoria Regatta, Aug. 11 through 15. The theme for this year's festival is "Bridge to Adventure." The festival will begin with the arrival and countywide welcome for the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Venturous.

The festival opens with the Queen's Coronation on Wednesday, Aug. 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the Clatsop Community College Performing Arts Center at 16th and Franklin streets in Astoria. One of four princesses—Sara Landwehr, Astoria; Adrienne Van Meer, Knappa; Stefanie Pender, Seaside; and Shashonee Thornton, Warrenton—will be crowned queen by the 1993 Regatta admiral, Jon A. Englund, owner of Englund Marine Supply, to reign over the five-day celebration. The Queen's Reception will immediately follow the coronation at the Columbia River Maritime Museum hosted by the museum's auxiliary. Admission to both events is by Regatta button, available locally for $3. Purchase of a button includes eligibility for prizes that will be given away at the end of the festival.

Activities scheduled for the Regatta include tours of visiting ships, Columbia River Maritime Museum tours, the Queen's Luncheon and the Admiral's Scholarship Luncheon, Rose Garden ceremonies at Flavel House, softball and tennis tournaments, tours of the historic homes of Oregon Trail pioneers, performances of the melodrama "Shanghaied in Astoria," U.S. Bank Regatta Rocker dances for youth ages 16 to 21, the Kiwanis Junior Regatta Parade, the Bank of Astoria Grand Land Parade, U.S. Coast Guard flyovers, the Englund Marine Twilight Boat Parade and fireworks.

For the second year, the site for Regatta Square will be near the waterfront on Leif Erikson Drive between 34th and 36th streets. A map is provided on Page 10.

The square will feature booths with arts, crafts and food, folklore shows, pony rides, rides and games, a beer garden, music, a U.S. Coast Guard helicopter search and rescue demonstration, a demonstration of the fireboat Harry Steinbock, gillnet boat races and a scenic excursion by Tiki Charters.

Regatta Square will be open Friday, Aug. 13, from 4 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday, Aug. 14, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.; and Sunday, Aug. 15, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The beer garden will be open on Friday and Saturday nights until midnight with music by Thunder Road. There will be a $3 cover charge. Parking will be available for $1. Members of the Astoria Elks Lodge will be assisting Regatta patrons at the parking area.

Back by popular demand this year is Portland Water Spectacular Limited, the largest water show team in the Northwest, and the gillnet boat race.

Portland Water Spectacular will perform on Saturday, Aug. 14, at 5:30 p.m. and Sunday, Aug. 15 at noon at the East Mooring Basin in Astoria.

The gillnet boat race is sponsored by Salmon For All and will be held between the Columbia River Maritime Museum and the East End Mooring Basin on Sunday, Aug. 15, starting at 1 p.m. A grand prize of $1,000 and a challenge cup, sponsored by David Riswick, a former professional Grand Prix racer, will be presented to the winner.

Helicopter rides will be provided at the maritime museum by Conquest Helicopters of Troutdale, Wednesday through Sunday. At 10 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 14, the fireworks will be shot off from a barge on the river near the East End Basin.

For more information, phone the Astoria and Warrenton Chamber of Commerce at 325-6311 or 325-5760.

Chaperone, escort accompany the court

Peg and Herb Steinmeyer are serving as chaperone and escort to the 1993 Astoria Regatta court. The couple has accompanied the four young women on their hectic summer schedule, making appearances and representing the Regatta and Clatsop County at festivals and parades throughout the Northwest.

The Steinmeyers have lived in Astoria for three years and have been active in Regatta events since seeing an announcement for a Regatta Association meeting in the paper and deciding to get involved.

Since then, the Steinmeyers have chaired the annual Regatta salmon barbecue and this year are on the Regatta Association board.

The Steinmeyers have five grown daughters and say they enjoy being surrounded by "giggles and exclaiming sounds" in their home again.

The princesses this year are "exceptional young women,"

the Steinmeyers say.

"Each has definite goals and positive attitudes," they add. "Although each is a very separate identity, they have all blended together making our trips and special events fun and rewarding. We wish for each princess a memorable Regatta and a sense of strong support from their community as they begin their undergraduate studies with the help of their Regatta scholarships."

Venturous to call Astoria home

The U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Venturous is a 210-foot class of cutters designed by the Coast Guard for maritime law enforcement and search and rescue duty. The cutter was launched by the American Shipbuilding Co., in Lorain, Ohio, on Nov. 11, 1967, and was commissioned on Sept. 17, 1968. She was homeported in San Diego and in 1970 transferred to San Pedro, Calif. The Venturous' area of operations extends from the waters off Mexico to Alaska and duties include support of oil spill operations.

The cutter is powered by twin 2,550 horsepower ALCO diesel engines and has a top speed of 18 knots. The craft is flight-deck capable and was the first vessel of the 210 class to be certified for day and night operations and in-flight refueling of the HH-65 helicopter. The Venturous carries a crew of 12 officers and 63 enlisted men.

Buttons give chances at drawings

The purchase of a 1993 Regatta button, in addition to offering a chance to win weekend getaways, also permits the wearer of the button to attend the coronation of the 1993 Astoria Regatta queen and reception.

The colorful 1993 Regatta logo that decorates the buttons was designed by Michael Lynch, a former Astoria resident and 1983 Astoria Regatta Association president who now lives in Portland.

Not only that, the owner of a 1993 version of the button will get a discount on admission to the Columbia River Maritime Museum. The buttons are $3 and are available at many business and banks in Clatsop County.

An Astoria Regatta tradition since 1983, the Rose Garden Ceremony is planned for Friday, Aug. 13, at 2:30 p.m. at the historic mansion built by Capt. George Flavel at 441 Eighth Street.

Sir Knight Robert C. Bishop III
Prime Minister, Royal Rosarians, 1993

Roses will be planted during the ceremony assisted by Prime Minister Robert C. Bishop III of the Portland Royal Rosarians, and the newly crowned queen of the Regatta.

Master of ceremonies will be Michael Foster of the Astoria Regatta Association, and a welcome to guests will be given by Karen Broenneke, executive director of the Clatsop County Historical Society.

Mayor of Astoria Willis L. Van Dusen and Regatta Admiral Jon A. Englund will speak at the ceremony, and members of the Little Ballet Theatre will perform in the garden. The dancers will be accompanied by Alan Anderson on the electric organ.

A color guard from U. S. Coast Guard Air Station Astoria will be on hand and a benediction will be given at the end of the event by retired Lutheran Pastor William Arbaugh.

Refreshments will be served by members of the historical society.

The Commodore Award and two other awards will be presented by Marlene Mestrich, 1993 president of the Regatta Association, during the ceremony.

The tournament will be held 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Aug. 8 and 9 a.m. till it's over on Aug. 9. For more information, call Darryl Hodson at 325-6619.

The annual men's and women's "D and E" slowpitch softball tournament will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 13, 14 and 15, at Tapiola, Evergreen, Niemi and Columbia fields and at U.S. Coast Guard Air Station Astoria in Warrenton.

Team trophies will be awarded for first through fourth places for each bracket with T-shirts for all-stars, Golden Glove and most valuable players. For more information, call Jim Kretler, 325-7275 days or 325-5340 evenings.

Dancers Liz Miner and Karrie Renfrow will perform at Regatta Square at 1 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 15.

Local dancers perform at Regatta Square

Karrie Renfrow and Liz Miner will be performing on Sunday at 1 p.m. at Regatta Square. The two dancers have been friends since they were 4 years old when both began attending Maddox Dance Studio and will be performing dances they have choreographed themselves. In fact, according to Liz's mother, Tammy, the reason her daughter began dancing was "because of Karrie."

Liz Miner will begin her second year at the School of American Ballet in New York City where she is the only student from Oregon. She also attends the Professional Children's School in New York with the likes of the "Home Alone" star Macauley Culkin and the kids from "The Cosby Show." This summer she has been attending the summer session of the San Francisco Ballet School on a full scholarship. According to her mother, Liz received her first standing ovation after a performance at the 1993 Miss Clatsop County Pageant.

RENFROW IS A junior at Warrenton High School where she maintains a 4.0 grade-point average and is captain of the school's dance team, choreographing many of the team's routines. At a recent dance school in Eugene, Renfrow was picked as one of the 10 best students from dancers from all over the state. She dances at the Miss Oregon Pageant, does choreography for the Miss Clatsop County Pageant and teaches at Maddox Dance Studio.

FPI Mobile Music at Regatta Rocker dances

"Commander" Paul Ihander's FPI Mobile Music will provide the music for the Regatta Rocker teen dance on Saturday, Aug. 14, from 9 p.m. to midnight. The dances will be held upstairs at the Astoria American Legion building, 1132 Exchange St. Admission is $5. The dances are open to youths aged 16 through 21 and are sponsored by U.S. Bank.

'Spectacular' water-ski show performs at east mooring basin

For the second year, Portland Water Spectacular, a water-ski show team from Portland will be performing at the Astoria Regatta. Shows are scheduled for 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 14, and noon on Sunday, Aug. 15 in the Columbia River at the East End Mooring Basin.

The water-skiing team has 45 performing members aged 10 to 50 and has been performing since 1986. The team's literature says the performers pride themselves on performing acts, costumes and humor, not stunts.

Portland Water Spectacular is known for its pyramids and has a record of 18 people in a triple pyramid.

The water-skiing team has appeared on "PM Magazine" and also has appeared on Grant McComie's "Great Outdoors" show. PWS has performed at festivals and fairs in Seattle and Olympia, Wash., and Medford, Ashland, Grants Pass, Milwaukie, Oregon City, West Linn and Portland. They also have performed at indoor exhibitions at sport and recreational shows.

All of the team's income, which comes from sponsors, goes to cover operating expenses. Members of the team are not paid and say they perform solely for the pleasure of being part of the team and sharing with the audience.

The team performs pyramids, inverted pyramids, an around-the-boat act, a jump act, a splits act, a chorus line act and an act called the four-by-four.

Portland Water Spectacular performed last year at the East End Mooring Basin in Astoria during the Regatta.

Mestrich first woman to head association

Marlene A. Mestrich, a tireless worker on the promotion of the Astoria Regatta for many years, is serving as the Regatta Association's first woman president this year.

Mestrich and her husband of 40 years, Chris, have three children, and two grandsons. The Mestrichs are co-owners of Chris's News in Astoria. She has been a member of the Anchor Club for 22 years and served as chaperone for the 1983 Regatta court, the year the Anchor Club celebrated its 50th anniversary. She served as Anchor Club skipper in 1988. In 1969 and 1971, Mestrich was a chaperone for the Miss Clatsop County Pageant.

A recipient of the Greater Astoria Area Chamber of Commerce's George Award in 1989, Mestrich also received the Regatta's outstanding service award that year.

She is 1992-93 president of the Astoria-Warrenton Chamber of Commerce's Ambassadors. In June, she was knighted by Portland's Royal Rosarians. Other memberships include the Columbia River Maritime Museum Auxiliary, the Clatsop County Historical Society and Order of Vasa.

The association's officers include President-Elect Les McNary, Secretary Peg Steinmeyer, Treasurer Vickie Barrett and board members Maxine Dymond, Herb Steinmeyer, Jim Hutchens, Bob Baltimore and Dan Amoth.

England, Eaton lead the Regatta

The admiral and admiral's aide for the 1993 Regatta are Jon A. England and Bob Eaton, both of Astoria.

England was born and raised in Astoria and graduated from Astoria High School and from the University of Oregon School of Business. He is president of England Marine Supply. The company has six stores on the coast and two related Portland corporations.

He serves as fisheries adviser to the Oregon State Board of Agriculture and locally is a trustee on the boards of the Columbia River Maritime Museum and Columbia Memorial Hospital.

England and his wife, Mary Jean, have three grown children. He enjoys fishing, hunting and is an avid team roper.

The admiral has a long history with the Regatta. He served as crown bearer at the 1942 Regatta coronation of Ann Halderman McGowan when he was 5 years old.

THE 1993 ADMIRAL'S aide, Bob Eaton, has been the executive director of Salmon for All Inc. since 1988. The non-profit organization has 850 members in Oregon and Washington and is supported by and acts on behalf of the Columbia River non-tribal commercial fishermen and fish processors. Eaton moved to Astoria from Woodburn in 1987 to become executive director of the chamber of commerce. In Woodburn he had been director of the chamber of commerce and the park and recreation department.

He serves as a registered lobbyist during legislative sessions in the two states and also has served as a voting member of the Salmon Summit, representing commercial fishermen from Oregon and Washington.

Eaton serves on the Lower Columbia River Water Quality Program Bi-State Steering Committee, was a delegate at the Washington Water Resources Summit and attends Pacific Fisheries Management Council and National Fisheries Institute meetings as well as meetings with regional fisheries management staffs and agencies.

He also serves on the Clatsop County Economic Development Council's fisheries subcommittee, the Astoria-Warrenton Chamber of Commerce's Fisheries Task Force, the Oregon Governor's Commercial Fishing Advisory Committee, the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife Commercial Fishing Advisory Committee, the steering committee of the North Pacific Gillnet Alliance and is on the board of the Oregon Fisheries Congress. He has two children, Brad, a freshman at Southern Oregon State College and Mindy, a junior at Barlow High School in the Portland area.

Maxine Dymond 60th Anchor Club Skipper

Maxine Dymond is the 60th person to head the Astoria Anchor Club. The organization provides wardrobe and meals for the Regatta court each year and is currently preparing a float that will be part of this year's Grand Land Parade.

DYMOND CAME TO Clatsop County in 1952 and moved to Astoria in 1957 where she opened the first bookstore and cafeteria at Clatsop Community College. She later was business manager for the college student body.

In 1989, the college student body named the school's newly remodeled cafeteria "Maxine's" in her honor.

Maxine Dymond

Dymond also has been involved with the Rebekah Lodge, Business and Professional Women, Seaside Methodist Church and the Miss Clatsop County Pageant.

She and her husband, Chuck, have a son and daughter, eight grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

She enjoys oil painting and growing tuberous begonias.

Luncheon features singer

Chris Lynn Taylor will provide the entertainment on Thursday, Aug. 12, at the annual Regatta Queen's luncheon. The event begins at noon at the Chinook Room of the Astoria Red Lion Inn. Taylor will sing tunes from "Phantom of the Opera," accompanied by Betty Phillips at the piano.

Cost of the luncheon buffet is $8.50.

Reservations are necessary and may be made by calling 861-1373, 325-7228, 325-7543 or 325-4161.

The luncheon is sponsored by the Anchor Club and was organized by chairwoman Marge Backlin. The buffet luncheon menu will include roasted turkey breast, Swedish potatoes, a selection of salads, dinner rolls and a fresh fruit tray.

OVER 500 VEHICLES IN STOCK, EVERYDAY!

Tour the homes of Oregon Trail pioneers

Five historic homes of Oregon Trail pioneers and their descendants plus guided tours of two local pioneer cemeteries will be available to people during this year's Regatta. The tours will be given on Saturday, Aug. 14, at 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. and Sunday, Aug. 15, at 1 and 4 p.m.

Cost of the tours are $7.50 and tickets will be available during the hours of the tours at the Clatsop County Heritage Museum, 16th and Exchange streets. No advance tickets will be sold. The tour is self-guided with a map and tour booklet.

The following houses will be on the tour:

Conrad and Philipoena Boelling House. The house was built in 1863. The Boelling family came from Cincinnati, crossing on the Oregon Trail in 1946. Conrad Boelling spent some time in the gold fields in California and had operated a hotel locally. In 1848, he provided the building for Astoria's first school. He was active in the organization of local government, serving one term as county treasurer. The Boellings' daughter, Mary Christina, married Capt. George Flavel.

George and Maude Fulton House, was built in 1885 by pioneer John Hobson as a wedding present for his daughter, Maude. Hobson came to Oregon in 1843. Maude's husband, George Fulton, argued at least two cases before the U.S. Supreme Court, representing local fishing interests and the Columbia River Pilot's Association. The house is now the Inn-Chanted Bed and Breakfast.

Frances Stevens Warren House. The house was built in 1877 by the daughter of Charles Stevens, who brought his family to the West in 1852. Stevens' letters are printed in the Oregon Historical Quarterly. The house has been home to the third mayor of Astoria, a banker who became Oregon's governor, a realtor who was a city councilman, a physician and a high school principal.

John Henry Dix Gray House, was built in 1880 for the son of W.H. Gray, who came to Oregon in 1836 with pioneer missionary Dr. Marcus Whitman. J.H.D. Gray was the second white boy born west of the Rockies. He died in the house in 1902 after a colorful career as a Columbia River steamboat captain, state senator and county judge.

Thomas and Jean Sandoz House. A relative newcomer as houses go, built in 1941, it qualifies for the tour because Jean Sandoz is the granddaughter of John Wesley Gearhart, who came on the Oregon Trail in 1848 along the Barlow Trail to Oregon City when he was 9 with his parents, Philip and Margaret Gearhart. The family settled in the Clatsop Plains area and their donation land claim is now the city of Gearhart. Tom Sandoz was vice president and later president of Bumble Bee Seafoods.

A bonus on the homes tour will be directions to gravesites of pioneers mentioned in the tour at Clatsop Plains Pioneer Cemetery and Ocean View Cemetery in Warrenton. The special feature of the Oregon Trail sesquicentennial observance is a public service of the Clatsop County Genealogical Society. Footwear for walking in long wet grass is advised.
